SWEET 'TATERS SAVE TOBACCO LOSSES

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 15—Farmers around Wingo and other points in Graves county have a way to beat the varying fortunes of the tobacco market, according to G. Ivan Barnes, supervisor of high school agricultural work in the Kentucky Department of Education. The method decided upon was to grow sweet potatoes instead of tobacco on a part of their ground and credit is given Prof. E. H. Smith, of Wingo High School, and L. Hammonds.

Last year the farmers of this section of Graves county suffered heavily from the low price of tobacco. They cast about for some other means of overcoming the risks of a one-crop system. Prof. Smith hit upon the idea of raising sweet potatoes after finding that the soil in that section was adapted to this crop. He secured pledges of more than 500 acres and sent to Tennessee for Earl Parham to take charge.

Mr. Parham planted seed potatoes and sold the slips to farmers at $2.50 a thousand. The first part of the week in Cincinnati, buying for Logsdon and Co.

Mr. Blaine Estridge has rented the I. B. Shepherd place and will take possession the first of the year.

Mrs. R. G. Woods made her first trip to Paint Lick since her illness, Monday, and spent the afternoon with Mrs. F. H. Smith.

Mrs. A. B. Estridge and family were in Danville Wednesday doing Xmas shopping.

Mr. Tom Logsdon and Messes Logsdon, A. B. Wynn, and G. M. Treadway were shopping in Lexington Monday.

Santa will be the guest at J. H. Ralston's store Saturday. All

Mr. Woods Walker has purchased a new Dodge Roadster.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tussey are the proud parents of a most remarkable boy, weighing a few ounces less than 16 pounds. This big, little fellow who is well proportioned, is the tenth child of Mr. and Mrs. Tussey and her champion heavyweight are doing nicely.

The federal funds are provided on the understanding that the state or locality will furnish half of the cost. At present the state's share is being contributed by local boards or persons who live in the school districts.

The same plan prevails in the teaching of home economics and in trade school extension work. J. T. Ryan is supervisor of the latter work in the state. There are now classes in various forms of trade extension in Louisville, Frankfort, Paris, Paducah, Ashland, Covington, Owensboro, and Princeton. The work ranges from millinery and shoe repairing to automobile mechanics, metallurgy, heat treatment of metals, printing, furniture repairing, electric wiring, machine work, and training of foremen.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

Cecilian Club Notes

The Cecilian Club and a number of guests were delightfully entertained in the pretty home of Mrs. S. J. McGaughey on Summit street Wednesday afternoon. Two guest numbers were appreciated greatly, the difficult "Rondo Brillante" by Weber, wonderfully executed by Mrs. Douglas Parrish, showing both talent and technical skill, and a "Christmas Song," beautifully sung by Mrs. James Leeds, of the Mary Pattie Club. After the program, a social hour and delicious lunch were enjoyed. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. M. C. Kellogg December 29th.

The program subject for the afternoon was Johann Brahms, and was given as follows:

Roll Call; Current Events. Piano—Rhapsodie Brahms. Miss Brown E. Telford. Talk—On the Composer. Mrs. R. R. Burnam, Sr. Piano—Tocato Brahms. Mrs. T. C. McCown. Voice—Christmas Song. Mrs. James Leeds

ASPEN AVENUE

Turpin on the Red House road, an unusually pretty wedding was that of their daughter, Ethel Mae, to James L. Hisle. In a sweet, simple ceremony Dr. E. C. McDougle united the contracting parties in the presence of their families and a group of friends.

The bride is the accomplished and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Turpin and is well known here where her many lovely graces made her a favorite among school-mates and friends. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hisle, a former student at Greenbriar, and is admired for his steady habits and industry.

They left on the evening train to spend a few days in Cincinnati. Upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm near College Hill.

Dr. D. J. Williams left Monday with his patient, Miss Bass Shugars, for Atlanta, Georgia, where she will undergo an operation.

Mrs. Woods Walker and Miss Mary Mae Walker, of Paint Lick, have returned from a visit to Danville.

Mrs. E. Tutt Burnam left Friday morning for Cincinnati. Miss Florence Burnam will arrive in Cincinnati Saturday and will accompany her mother home for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Noel have returned from a visit to relatives in Garrard county.

Miss Zerelda Baxter, who has been teaching at Finchville, is ill in the hospital at Shelbyville, her friends will be sorry to know. She hopes to recover in time to reach home for the holidays.

Dr. H. C. Jasper has returned from a business trip to Arkansas.

Numerous friends here will be sorry to know that Mrs. Belle M. Herndon is quite ill at her home in Georgetown.

Miss Rowena Coates is expected home from Finchville to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, President T. J. Coates and Mrs. Coates.

Miss Florence Lewis, of the Model school, will be with the home folks in Winchester for the holidays.

Mrs. Allen Zaring and guest, Mrs. Allen Ashburn, of California, spent Friday in Nicholasville, the guest of the former's sister, Mrs. L. V. Williams and Dr. Williams.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbors.

Mrs. Carrie Long, 140 Tate Creek avenue, Richmond, says: "A few years ago I was down with kidney trouble and for two months I suffered so I couldn't straighten my back or turn over in bed I was helpless. Every time I moved the pain was so severe I would scream. My limbs and joints were stiff and swollen. I had dizzy, swimming sensations in my head and objects flashed before my eyes. My kidneys acted irregularly and although I tried all sorts of remedies I was not benefited until I was finally told of Doan's Kidney Pills by a friend. Doan's soon cured me of all signs of the trouble and I was able to do my work. My back was well and strong." (Statement given November 20, 1916.)

On March 1, 1921, Mrs. Long added: "It has been a long time since I have needed Doan's Kidney Pills. Should I ever again need a kidney remedy I would certainly take Doan's."

Better Advertising For Better Business

Reflect Your Windows In Your Advertising—

Local merchants are finding more and more the value of a close tie-up between their show windows and their local newspaper advertising. Advertising will bring customers to your store; your show windows, by their interesting, effective display, should urge them inside.

For this reason it is wise to feature the same products in your windows and your newspaper advertising.

Talk with your local publisher about this. Usually, he is a careful student of advertising and will be able to give you good advice.

BARKER STARTS TO BUY WAREHOUSES

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 16.—The first step toward the actual taking over by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association of warehouses of the burley district was indicated by Warehouse Manager, Ralph M. Barker here today when he sent telegrams to every warehouseman in the district informing them of meetings to be held in four districts into which Kentucky has been divided. At the same time a letter was sent asking the warehousemen to have meeting of their stockholders and empower some person to act for them in selling or renting the warehouse.

RICHMOND LODGE HAS BIG NIGHT

Richmond Lodge No. 25 E. & A. M. exemplified the Master's degree in the superlative sense Tuesday night. Past masters of the lodge constituted the degree team. Visitors were here from half a dozen towns. Earl Combs, Normal student, and highly esteemed by every man who knows him, was raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason. Rarely has the Master's degree been put on with such a distinguished assemblage. The occasion was a memorable one in Masonic history here. Afterwards refreshments were served and enjoyed by all. Richmond Lodge No. 25 never does things by halves. The occasion fulfilled in every way the historic traditions of this great order.

WAGGONER HAS A GOOD BILL

(By Associated Press)

Stamping Ground, Ky., Dec. 16—Pistol "jokers" will have to get a license and register their guns if Rev. George C. Waggoner, of this place, who will represent Scott county again in the 1922 legislature, can convince enough of his colleagues of the desirability of such a law and secure its passage. Rev. Waggoner also will attempt to secure passage of a law giving counties the right to appeal to the courts from decisions of the State Tax Commission, he said.

Rev. Waggoner is especially interested in education, agriculture and good roads legislation, he said, and will endeavor to secure passage of bills that will aid all. He also will seek an amendment to the Fish and Game laws, allowing the gigging of fish during a limited time each year and also to allow the use of dipnets and one allowing damage for fox bounties killed during a chase.

Rev. Waggoner said that he was not seeking any special honors at the hands of the House of Representatives, but that he might try for the chairmanship of the Democratic caucus.

Says There Are Enough Laws

(By Associated Press)

Mt. Sterling, Dec. 16—There are plenty of laws on the Kentucky statute books at present in the opinion of S. B. Lane, who will represent this county in the lower house of the 1922-23 legislature. Mr. Lane said here today that because of his belief, he is going to be very careful what he votes for during the session of the legislature which begins in January, and that a bill would have to have great merit before he would vote for it.

Another Attempt To Rob Camp Nelson Distillery

Lexington, Dec. 16—Fifty shots were exchanged early Thursday by guards and a crowd of whisky thieves in an automobile at the Curley Distillery at Camp Nelson Jessamine county. Word had been received at prohibition headquarters here Wednesday night that an attempt to rob the warehouse would be made and fifteen federal officers left here, but arrived at the distillery after the bandits had been driven off by the guards.

Electrical Cheer

Electrical Gifts at Christmas time, as on all other gift occasions, are not bauble or trinkets for a day. They are lasting gifts which carry electrical cheer throughout the years. Keen joy, real enthusiasm and gratitude will radiate from grown-ups when they receive something electrical as surely and as strongly as from the children who are given electrical toys. For the recipients, Electrical Gifts will give Christmas day an added meaning and increase happiness, comfort, and convenience every time they are used.

Then give Electrical gifts for Christmas. They answer the question, "What Shall I Give?" most satisfactorily.

There is something electrical for every member of the family at our store

"BAT" MASTERS REVENGE ON THE CHEYENNES

One December day in the early seventies a young buffalo hunter down in the Texas Panhandle was busy skinning a buffalo when five Cheyennes of Chief Bear Shield's band rode up, saluted him with a grave "How?" and sat on their ponies idly watching his work. Although the hunter's Sharps rifle was lying some distance away, he was not worried, for the Cheyennes were supposed to be peaceful at that time.

Presently one of the red men dismounted and picked up the Sharps as though to examine it and, as he did so, another reached across and whipped the pistol from the holster in the hunter's belt. Instantly the first Indian struck the white man a murderous blow across the forehead with the rifle and it broken but emphatic English told him to "git." The hunter was outnumbered five to one; he "got."

The victim of the Cheyennes was "Bat" Masterson. William Barclay Masterson was his name, but his success as a buffalo hunter had won him the title of "Bat," as a worthy successor to Baptiste Brown, "Old Bat," a mighty slayer of game in the old days. Masterson reached his camp in safety.

That night he rode stealthily into Bear Shield's village and "cut out" 40 of the old chief's ponies. As he worked he came upon another rider engaged in the same occupation. It proved to be Billy Tightman, a fellow buffalo hunter who later became a famous deputy United States marshal.

When in 1874 a war party swept down upon the Adobe Walls, the buffalo hunters' headquarters, some of Bear Shield's warriors rode with it and one of the defenders of the little stockade was "Bat" Masterson. Then and there he obtained revenge for the blow which the Cheyenne had struck him.

After the Adobe Walls fight, Masterson enlisted as a scout for General Miles and served with him until the southern plains tribes were subdued. A few years later he was elected sheriff of Ford county, Kansas, Dodge city, the county seat, was one of the toughest cowboy towns in the West, but when Masterson resigned in 1881 it was one of the most peaceful. By his courage and his skill he had established a record second only to Wild Bill Hickok as a tamer of "bad men."

Then he left the West never to return, and today "Bat" Masterson is a high salaried writer on a New York newspaper.

LACK OF VITAMINES IN OUR DAILY FOOD

Causes Thin, Weak, Run-Down Conditions

Dr. Harrow, of Columbia University Says "Vitamines In Food Necessary To Sustain Life"

Science Finds A Perfect Vitamin Food

For the first time on record, a perfectly balanced Vitaminine Tonic Food is offered the people of Richmond with its efficacy scientifically proven in one of our oldest and best known Medical Colleges in this country.

SUSTO is the name of this preparation. It is a combination in convenient tablet form of the nutritive and growth-promoting properties of Milk, Yeast, Rice, Eggs and Beef, together with Beef Protein, Nuclein and Iron. Its composition being based on medical experience and the latest discoveries in nutrition, there was reason to believe it would meet the wide-spread need for a dependable reconstructive in cases of malnutrition, under-development of children, certain forms of anemia, general debility, blood impoverishment and loss of weight and as an upbuilder of convalescents. Yet, appreciating the responsibility connected with offering it for general use, the makers of SUSTO decided to secure in disputable proof of its actual value.

So the preparation was submitted to Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Professor of Physiological Chemistry at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, with instructions to definitely ascertain its worth in the most conclusive ways known to science.

Under his personal supervision the formula was perfected and subjected to a series of therapeutic and feeding tests on normal and sick human beings, with unusual success in every instance.

By its use under-weight persons gained flesh rapidly—the weak were made strong—and health and energy replaced weakened, run-down conditions. Thus in the final report of this investigation it was stated that SUSTO is a tonic food of the greatest value for malnutrition and its allied diseases.

Perry's Drug Store is enthusiastic in regard to SUSTO, the retail agency for which they have secured for this territory. Ask about SUSTO at Perry's Drug Store. If you try the treatment for one month, at a cost of 10 cents a day, and you are not in better health every way—weight more and feel stronger—they will return your money. It

ADVERTISING NOW A CREDIT FUNDAMENTAL

Chicago, Dec. 16—Advertising is one of the fundamentals of credit. F. Guy Davis, western manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, told a congregation of salesmen here today.

"John Fletcher, the Chicago banker, cannot understand why it is that the impression has got around that the banker is opposed to advertising," Mr. Davis said. "Indeed he insists on the direct contrary that advertising really has a vital relation to credit.

"Mr. Fletcher, in a recent interview with me said: 'Bankers have always considered well planned advertising as an asset. But it is only comparatively lately that they have come to regard it as one of the determining factors in the extension of credit. The force that produces selling reputation is advertising. Advertising is really one of the fundamentals of credit. The old time idea of requiring a business man to have several dollars for every one that he borrows is no longer the exclusive consideration. He may have the dollars and still not get the loan, even in normal times. The man himself, his ability, the way he talks, his understanding of his business, his enthusiasm, yes, and even his belief in advertising, all enter into the calculation more than many people believe.'

Mr. Fletcher also brings out another interesting point when he says: "The drop in commodity prices is bringing back into the buying field, the thoughtful, reading, discriminating people of fixed income, who have always been the back-bone of the market, for quality goods at fair prices. Advertising has always played its important part in the cultivation of this market and it will play an increasingly important part in the future for reasons which are obvious to the serious student of business conditions."

BEREA SOIL TEST A LESSON TO FARMERS

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 16—Farming often is spoken of as a gamble in which the farmer takes a chance with the weather, soil conditions, markets and various other things, but unlike the ordinary games of chance, farming is apt to prove profitable to the soil tiller who pockets all the profits the refuses to "sweeten the pot," according to soils and crops specialists at the Kentucky Agricultural Station. In fact results obtained during the past year on the Berea experiment and which is conducted by the station in cooperation with Berea College, indicate that the farmer who anted rather systematically and wisely is apt to be more prosperous than the one who sits in the game and does nothing but draw out his winnings.

In spite of the fact that the 1921 season was an especially dry one, corn and soy beans on the field have responded remarkably well to manure, limestone and phosphate, according to final results compiled on the field by S. C. Jones, soils specialist at the station.

One plot on the field, which was treated with manure, produced 48.3 bushels of corn and 3,200 pounds of soy bean hay to the acre, or 38 bushels more of corn and 1,640 pounds more of soy bean hay than did a similar plot that was not so treated. On plots where both manure and limestone were used, the yield of corn was 60.6 bushels and that of soy bean hay 4,100 pounds to the acre, or 50.3 bushels of corn more and 2,600 pounds more of soy bean hay than was the case with untreated plots.

The most striking results were obtained on plots which received a treatment of manure, limestone and acid phosphate, these yielding 74.1 bushels of corn and 4,670 pounds of soy bean hay to the acre. This was 63.8 bushels more of corn and 3,110 pounds more of soy bean hay than was the case on the untreated plot, which yielded 10.3 bushels of corn and 1,560 pounds of soy bean hay to the acre.

The results are said to have a particular value to the farmers in the vicinity of Berea, inasmuch as the field contains soil which is representative of thousands of acres of land adjacent to the hills which extend around the border of the blue grass region from Vanceburg on the northeast to Louisville on the southwest. The field is located about two miles east of Berea on low, white "crawfishy" land.

Manure has been used at the rate of six tons to the acre, limestone at the rate of two tons to the acre and acid phosphate at the rate of 800 pounds to the acre, this amount being applied in a rotation of corn, soy beans, wheat and clover. After the second round of the rotation is completed limestone will be omitted and acid phosphate used, at the rate of 400 pounds to the acre. Experiments have been conducted on the field since 1912.

Advertising has always played its important part in the cultivation of this market and it will play an increasingly important part in the future for reasons which are obvious to the serious student of business conditions."

"Since all batteries look so much alike on the outside, how am I going to tell which one has the most value inside?"

"That is a practical everyday question and it has a simple everyday answer."

What greater assurance could you possibly have than the following combination of facts:

1—Extraordinary quantity in the battery itself, as shown by the choice of the Willard Batteries. These batteries are standard equipment by the manufacturers of 2,000 makes of cars and trucks.

2—A nation-wide organization to serve you.

3—Record on quality and service dating back nearly to the beginning of the auto era.

THE ECONOMY BAKING POWDER

CALUMET

Calumet possesses the farthest-reaching baking powder economy. It is the most economical leavening agent. It saves in more ways—and makes more important savings than most other baking powders.

You save when you buy it. The price is moderate—it leaves you money over the cost of high-priced brands for purchase of other articles. Costs but little more than cheap powders—far more valuable in quality.

You save when you use it. Possesses more than the ordinary raising force—you use only half as much as is ordinarily required.

You save materials it is used with. Calumet never fails with any kind of receipt or with any kind of flour—always produces perfectly raised, delicious bakenings.

You'll notice a great difference when you use Calumet. Calumet produces light, sweet, wholesome, flaky bakenings. You will notice with some of the cheaper brands the bakenings are soggy, heavy, dark in color, and sometimes have a bitter taste.

Used by leading chefs and domestic scientists, and by more housewives than any other brand. Made in the world's largest and finest baking powder plants.

Best by test. A trial proves it.

The Law Says 16 oz. to a Pound

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.
